North End school awarded literacy grant

A North End school is one of three Manitoba schools that will receive funding from the Indigo Love of Reading Foundation to promote literacy.

King Edward Community School, along with Arborgate School in La Broquerie and Betty Gibson School in Brandon, are among 20 schools across the country to receive grants from the foundation.

Students at each of the three schools will receive $100 per year towards the purchase of new books and other learning materials during the three-year program.

The foundation will provide a total of $1.5 million in funding during the next three years. — Staff
